

S!NX – Sneaker Brand Launch

Brand Strategy, Product Design & Campaign Development

1. Project Overview

S!NX is a conceptual sneaker sub-brand developed under Snitch, designed to target Gen Z consumers with a focus on affordability, self-expression, and sustainability. The project explores how a fashion brand can expand into footwear while maintaining strong brand identity and market relevance.

2. Brand & Client Understanding

Snitch is a fast-growing Indian menswear brand known for trendy, affordable fashion for young consumers. The goal was to expand its product line into sneakers that reflect:

- Contemporary streetwear aesthetics
- Budget-friendly pricing
- Sustainable materials

This extension strengthens Snitch's positioning as a youth-driven, future-conscious brand.

3. Problem Statement

Young consumers often face a trade-off:

- Affordable sneakers lack quality or uniqueness
- Sustainable sneakers are expensive

This project addresses the gap by creating stylish, durable, and eco-friendly sneakers at an accessible price point, specifically for Gen Z.

4. Objectives

Marketing

- Establish presence in the sneaker & streetwear market
- Build visibility across online and offline channels
- Differentiate through customization

Sales

- Drive strong product launch

- Increase conversions and repeat purchases

Communication

- Promote individuality and self-expression
- Build emotional connection with Gen Z

5. Product Concept

S!NX sneakers are designed as unisex, customizable streetwear footwear combining:

- Minimal base design for everyday wear
- Interchangeable elements (laces, charms, panels)
- Name engraving for personalization
- Sustainable materials

The product acts as both functional footwear and a personal style statement.

6. Target Audience

- Gen Z (18–25 years)
- College students & early professionals
- Streetwear enthusiasts
- Social-media-driven consumers who value individuality

7. Brand Strategy & Identity

Core Idea

“Bold Self-Expression for the Next Generation.”

Positioning

- Affordable yet premium-looking sneakers
- Youth-centric and expressive
- Inspired by street culture

Tagline

“Be Loud. Be You.”

The brand is designed as a creative, bold, and relatable identity, acting like a “cool friend” encouraging individuality.

8. Product Design & Variants

S!NX Originals

- Made from upcycled Snitch fabric
- Sustainable and limited-edition

S!NX Glow

- UV-reactive material that changes color in sunlight

S!NX Switch

- Detachable panels for customizable looks

These variants allow users to adapt style without changing the product, enhancing longevity and engagement.

9. Campaign Concept

The campaign was structured in phases:

1. Awareness – Teasers, OOH ads, campus activations
2. Hype & Trust – Influencer storytelling
3. Experiential – Try-on zones and exhibitions
4. Engagement – Interactive installations
5. Retention – UGC campaigns and community building

This creates a full-funnel marketing experience from discovery to loyalty.

10. IMC Strategy

The campaign integrates multiple channels:

- Social media & influencer marketing
- College activations & events
- Retail displays and pop-ups
- Email, SMS, and digital ads

Focus: Pre-launch hype → Launch conversion → Post-launch loyalty

11. TVC Concept

The TVC follows a bold visual narrative:

- Sneakers emerge from darkness under spotlight
- Gradual reveal of colors and variants
- Showcases customization (Switch) and transformation (Glow)
- Ends with strong brand recall: “Be Loud. Be You.”

The concept emphasizes identity, transformation, and self-expression.

12. Packaging Design

The packaging is designed as a reusable sneaker box that converts into a display stand, combining:

- Sustainability
- Functionality
- Aesthetic unboxing experience

13. Challenges & Considerations

- High competition in sneaker market
- Price sensitivity among Gen Z
- Need for strong product differentiation
- Maintaining quality with affordability

Solutions included:

- Customization features
- Competitive pricing
- Influencer-led awareness
- Strong brand positioning

14. My Role

I contributed across both design and marketing strategy, focusing on building a cohesive and expressive brand experience.

- Developed TVC concepts and storyboard ideas to communicate brand identity visually
- Designed the sneaker products, including concept, features, and variations
- Created the brand logo and visual identity system

- Brainstormed and contributed to campaign concepts and marketing strategies
- Worked on aligning product design with Gen Z behavior and self-expression trends

15. Outcome & Learning

This project demonstrates:

- Strong understanding of brand creation and extension
- Ability to combine product design with marketing strategy
- Skills in campaign thinking, storytelling, and visual identity
- Deep focus on user-centric and trend-driven design

16. Conclusion

S!NX successfully positions itself as a bold, customizable, and sustainable sneaker brand for Gen Z. By merging affordability with self-expression, the project creates a brand that is not just functional but emotionally and culturally relevant.
